

The Land of Lincoln Water Gardening Society, under the leadership of Dennis Campbell, club vice-president, worked to turn a water feature at the Illinois Governor's Mansion into a thriving water garden.

Working with the Mansion horticulturist, Harry Lewis, and his crew the project was completed in July of 2011. The club held their July meeting around the fountain/water garden.

During the program, Harry Lewis described how the fountain and surrounding plantings and structures have become a showpiece. Springfield Ace Hardware was recognized for their contributions of water plants.

Following the presentation, Lewis led the group on a garden tour followed by refreshments on one of the patios.
